Dear Parents/Guardians,

For your future planning, be advised that 2016.17 presents the first year that all junior high students across CUSD will be involved in taking semester finals. These biannual assessments will take multiple and varied forms and are intended as another snapshot of student progress throughout the learning cycle. Another intended purpose of these end-of-semester assessments is to better prepare students for their high school and college experience, where finals are a normal part of evaluating student performance. These tests are averaged into a student's final semester grade – the grade that becomes a part of their permanent junior high transcript.

Bogle's first semester finals will be given on December 21st and 22nd; second semester finals are scheduled for May 30th and 31st. On all final days, students will be on an early release schedule with dismissal at 1:04 PM. We are distributing this initial information now and asking families to plan accordingly to ensure students are present for finals. Per district policy, finals WILL NOT be administered early and a zero will be issued for any missed finals.

We will provide more detailed information about the testing schedule mid-way through second quarter. As always, thank you for your continued support.

Best regards,

Susan Avey, Principal
